Assignment: Based on Critical Thinking in Management of Sporting Events

Instructions:

- Answer all questions thoughtfully and critically.
- Provide logical reasoning and real-life examples where applicable.
- Use diagrams or tables if needed.
- Keep answers clear and well-structured.

Section A: Case-Based Questions (3 marks each) (6 marks total)

1. Case 1:

Your school is organizing an inter-house basketball tournament. However, due to limited time, the tournament must be completed in two days.

- Which tournament format would you choose and why?
- What challenges might arise in this format, and how can they be addressed?

2. Case 2:

A city marathon is planned for 5000 participants. There is a risk of overcrowding and mismanagement.

- Suggest three planning strategies to ensure smooth execution.
- How can technology help in managing such a large-scale event?

Section B: Analytical Questions (3 marks each) (6 marks total)

3. Compare and contrast knockout and round-robin tournaments. Which one is fairer? Support your answer with reasons.

4. Many sports events face financial challenges in planning and execution. Suggest three innovative ways to raise funds for a school-level sports event.

Section C: Open-Ended Reflection (3 marks total)

5. "A well-planned tournament is more important than the skill of the players."

Do you agree or disagree? Justify your answer with real-life sports examples.

Note: Submit your assignment on or before 25-04-2025 positively to your respective subject teacher for assessment.
